Visual Ray Psionics:

- Ancient Keys
- Thought Forms
- Ball Lightning, Orbs, and Vacuum Domains

The "Shroud of Concealment" of the Golden Dawn Order, the "Cloud" of Apollonius of Tyana, the alchemical sulphur of the Rosicrucian Order, the "Shadows" of the Qabalah, to name a few are based upon visual ray psionics.

Everyday, unknowingly, people are applying this natural ability to create synchronicity of events. In the case of an idealistic person, "good luck" and simply being at the right place at the right time may have brought him fortune. In the case of a cynical person, "bad luck" may be a constant part of his life as a "cloud" of despair follows him.

Overall, one might say that there is a "cloud" of mistrust and belligerence looming over this planet considering the recent and on going events. From a negative perspective, there are "clouds" of hatred and spiritual vampirism that roam freely. From a positive perspective, these clouds are a direct result of human super potential, therefore, they are an equal force for good, to counter the evil.

These clouds are "thought-forms" created through visual ray psionics. Unwittingly, people, everyday through their prayers, fantasies, and lamentations, create and fortify their own thought-forms and they wonder at the mystery of how and why a certain bad or good thing took place at a crucial moment.

Thought-forms can take years to form and years to perish. Gifted and disciplined people can take moments to create thought forms. Sometimes they never dissipate. They can be strong enough to be mistaken for "ghosts" and "demons" - even ethereal "space critters," "orbs," and "UFOs." Thought-forms are manifestations of ourselves through visual ray psionics.

Before we proceed with the theory of the visual ray I would like the readers to get an objective feel for what is being projected from the human eye.

Experiment 1: Detecting Your Visual Ray

Seeing for the living human is a function of his/her etheric forces. The mechanical conception of sight is not sufficient considering this radiation that extends from the eye.

You may be familiar with "bioplasmic glue" that you can form between your hands procedure. If not, just sit, relaxed, with palms facing together in front of you. Slowly, oscillate the palms together until you feel the slight, gossamer force between the palms. (Even modern day hippies know this one. I've asked them.) Relax your hands at a distance where you feel the force is strongest. Slowly glance back and forth between your palms. You may immediately feel a gossamer brushing between them; this is your visual ray.

Experiment 2: Using Your Visual Radar

Lie quietly in a darkened room. Shut off all distracting sounds, electronic or otherwise. Allow yourself to become accustomed to the environment. You are trying to bring into function your awareness of faculties and endowments of your organism that have been beaten down by the daily assault of civilized living.

Give the grander realities a chance to live in you and show their wonders. (Just don't fall asleep because it's dark.)

Hold your hands in front of you with palms facing you. The visual ray is a subtle beam of energy that leaves your eyes like a radar beam. Swing your eyes back and forth across the place in the dark where your hands are. Do it slowly, carefully, persistently. Extend your touch out through your visual ray.

Unless you are an especially insensitive individual, or one determined NOT to succeed, you will, after time, feel the gentle passage of the visual ray across your hands. You will find its gossamer subtlety (almost like the lightest edges of a feather brushing across your hands) a new experience in feeling or an old one if you're used to dealing with subtle energies.

Persist and your sensitivity will improve. Shift your sensitivity of touch into the visual ray and send it out into the darkened room to feel all kinds of protuberances from your appliances, furniture, or the limits of your room. If there is a venetian shade in the room, run the visual ray up and down over the slats. Once you have developed touch sensitivity through the visual ray, the effect is akin to running the teeth of a comb over your fingertips, but immeasurably more subtle. With practice you will even be able to measure distance, even if the object is hundreds of miles away. (Celestial bodies are a different story. The photonic energy from distant stars, for example, has been traveling for millenia, so it's old information. Therefore, you would need remote viewing to understand objects that are light years away.)

{Paper forms directly responsive to the visual ray are contained in John P. Boyle's "The Psionic Generator Pattern Book" published by Prentice Hall. This book will significantly assist private researchers in this field. Since the book is out of print, you can probably find Boyle's Designs on the web.}

Experiment 3: Cloudbusting

This direct proof is overwhelming. Once again, you do your proving by objectively seeing and experiencing the phenomenon for yourself. The difference is, in this experiment, others can also see the results. You may dissipate clouds with your visual ray by following a simple procedure. Do not attempt short cuts, variants or modifications until you have performed exactly in accordance with these requirements:

1. Choose a day when you have numbers of small, discrete clouds that are approximately the same size.
2. Select one cloud to be dissipated. Have a friend take a Polaroid photograph of the scene and mark your selected cloud before you begin dissipating it.
3. Resolve, inwardly, that you are going to dissipate that cloud, drawing the energy down your visual ray into yourself.
4. Concentrate on the cloud and slice your visual ray back and forth across it then drill into it. Slice back and forth then bore some more. (Shifting your eyes in hexagonal and hexagram patterns across your target multiplies the dispersion.)
5. Within five minutes the cloud will have begun to disperse after clearly having lost cohesion. Surrounding clouds of comparable size to the selected cloud remain, essentially, whole. A friend with a time lapse camera will objectify it all for you.
6. Concentration upon fragmenting portions of the cloud will secure their final dispersal.

The most important thing to bear in mind when attempting this for the first time is that there is always a delay between the application of the bioenergetic stimulus of the visual ray and the manifestation of gross physical effects such as the visible dissolution of the cloud. In essence, ethereal science doesn't happen like a "gun shot" and mechanistic skeptics may argue against this time lag. Allow for this inherent bioenergetic delay. Etheric energy takes time to react (unless it's transmuting into another form of energy since - cosmic ether is the source of zero point energy). You are no longer dealing with mechanical things in a mechanical fashion. You are entering the realm of the living.

You will find that your whole ocular apparatus becomes strongly stimulated by visual ray cloudbusting. This stimulation is due to the {akasa, orgone, vril, bioenergy, you name it} energy that binds the moisture in the cloud being drawn down your visual ray into your organism in accordance with the Law of Reverse Orgone Potential. For the moment, you also know that you can produce tremendous physical effects at a distance.

If you have absorbed too much energy, then you will feel dizzy, your head may feel stuffy, and/or your face may start to turn purple. If this happens, you get rid of the excess by taking a shower or urinating as you, willfully, let go of the excess energy. (The sexual function is a possibility for the males to let go of excess energy, but proceeding immediately to sexual intercourse with the above side effects may be prohibitive.)

Experiment 4: Sensing Distortion

Another convincing proof of the visual ray as a bioenergetic emanation from the human being is to observe, carefully, your reactions and sensations when you see an image in a fun house distorting mirror or look at the world through glass that has been physically bent at a sharp angle (like someone else's strong prescription lenses).

A sharp sensation of strain communicates itself to the organism as a result of the bending of the visual ray.

This inner sensation of discomfort, sometimes of pain, has nothing whatever to do with viewing a distorted image as such. Study a photograph of an image from a distorted mirror. This does not produce the sensation of inner discomfort that arises from being present, physically, therefore, involved bioenergetically in the actual distortion process. Careful self-observation is an important part of this work. (pp. 62-64, ch.4, Probing the New Reality, Cosmic Pulse of Life, Trevor James Constable)

The mechanist always likens the human eye to a fine camera. Unfortunately, he is even wrong on that count since the important mechanism of focus is the brain. The eye, itself, is an extremely poor instrument of focus, so we must consider the images that are bioenergetically received in the brain as the real system of focus. To this we now add that from what we have experienced, we know that the eye, with its visual ray, also closely resembles a radar set. This is how we intend to use our eyes, empirically.

Experiment 5: Individual Sensors

Another convincing proof of the visual ray as a bioenergetic emanation from the human being is to, objectively, gather data according to the reactions of others to the visual ray.

As you have discovered, thus far, that the skin, the largest organ of the human body has an uncanny ability to sense bioenergetic emanations no matter how subtle.

Gather one or more of your friends/skeptics who you are pretty sure lack a keen sixth sense. Make sure that no one else is around in order to insulate this experiment from other 'on lookers.' Perhaps, you have heard the age old saying in folklore and scary movies of "feeling eyes upon you." Some say it's an unmistakable, prickly sensation at the back of the neck. Now, you are going to prove to your friends/skeptics that the visual ray exists because they are going to feel it, objectively.

1. Stand or sit one or more of your friends about twenty feet away facing away from you and tell them to relax. If you have more than one friend in this experiment have them at least ten feet apart. Ask them to tell you when they believe you are staring at them.
2. Stare straight at the back of the neck of one friend at a time, if you have more than one in this experiment. When you stare at any one particular person try to memorize an intense emotion associated with this friend while you picture his/her face.
3. Have your friend tell you when he/she feels your visual ray upon them. Don't ask anyone if they feel it. Have them tell you. You may discover that one of your friends is remarkably sensitive by reacting to your thoughts. After spending a few minutes with each of your friends and skeptics they will objectify the visual ray for you.

In the next section we will learn the theories behind the driving force of the visual ray and it's role in psionics.

Visual Ray Psionics: The Light Connection

Our search for the scientific basis of the "Visual Ray" should begin with the search for the "Missing Link." We must consider that "missing link" that humanity has pondered and dwelt upon since time immemorial: The link between physical and spiritual planes. What is the link between man and God that no one can deny - not even the mechanistically-minded, scientific community nor atheists?

Key to Philosopher's Stone

Beyond conjecture, the proof exists right now that links our physical bodies to the spiritual world and has been the subject of much research and controversy at various state universities and esoteric scientific realms.

The search for the true "missing link" has been active a number of millenia in the form of the search for the "Philosopher's Stone." Also known as "white powder gold," "Mana," and "the elixir of life" discoverer of ORMEs (Orbitally Rearranged Monoatomic Elements), David Hudson spoke in a lecture: "First of all it is a room temperature superconductor... When mixed with water it forms a gelatinous mixture. When ingested it has the following affects. Every cell in your body will be taken back to the state it is supposed to be when you were a teenager or a child. It perfects the DNA and closes the light within the body until you literally reach a point where the light body exceeds the physical body. The gifts that go with this are perfect telepathy. You can know good and evil when it is in the room with you. You can project your thoughts into someone else's mind. You can levitate. You can walk on water. Because it is flowing so much light in you, you literally don't attract gravity..."

ORMEs form within the cavity of structures known as quantum microtubules. Microtubules occur throughout the cytoskeletal mass of c-fibre neurons, or about 85% of the nervous system.

Microtubules were a subject of deep study by Roger Penrose and Stuart Hameroff. Collective DNA Consciousness also discusses microtubules as Einstein-Rosen bridges or "tiny wormholes" that lead to alternate realities during higher consciousness.

Microtubules may also be the "luo" or small channels according to traditional Chinese Medicine. The "luo" are extensions of the energy meridian system, the further bioenergetic bridge which leads to alternate realities according to Dr. William Tiller, leading expert on psychoenergetics.

One of the treatises of transcendental and chi kung meditation in internal alchemy, is NOT to ascend beyond humanity, but to return to the "natural state of being and regain our full potential," that is, being one with the spiritual realm from whence we came. The "philosopher's stone" has the same goal.

Let us refine our definition of "the light within the body" as a source of our psionic abilities and as a precipitate from the spiritual realm using more scientific rather than spiritual principles.

A Scientific Approach

The light Einstein is referring to in his Special Theory of Relativity is not the same light you see in the every day world. He is talking about light in an absolute vacuum. If you were to measure any specific form of light you encounter in your travels, it could only APPROACH the speed of light, "c" ($c = 3 \times 10^8$ meters per second). Even outer space is not a perfect vacuum and the light therein could only come approximately close to the speed of light. ('Phase' speed, which is "superluminal" and 'Group' speed of an electromagnetic wave are not withstanding. Academically, we are still treating a wave as if in a perfect vacuum.)

The light that Einstein is talking about is something for which we do not have a reference in normal experience. Of course, the colors we see in life are a distortion of true light. Most of our light is emitted from the heat of the sun which is distorted through our atmosphere.

While some scientists of that day stated that light consisted of continuous waves, Einstein's further research led him to believe that light consisted of a continuous stream of particles which he termed photons. Scientists have since hotly debated whether light consists of waves or particles. This is an intriguing area of research in itself and some people even meditate on the exact point where a wave becomes a particle with consequent transcendental experiences.

In a pure vacuum, photons will manifest as a wave of pure energy. They do not manifest as particles. This is pure light as Einstein defined it in his Special Theory of Relativity. But, when light is subjected to a magnetic field, it changes and breaks down into particles or photons. In such a state, it is no longer "c," the speed of light. In other words, it is no longer the same light that moves at a constant speed.

In this sense, it can be said that magnetism is an intrinsic factor in the creation of matter, if not the primary factor. It is also noteworthy that everything you see and experience in the world around you is magnetized light which is, in reality, a distortion of pure light (in the formula, $e = m(c)^2$). This also implies a distortion of time which, within our physical perspective, seems linear.

{Linear time is an important aspect of our separation from the spiritual world in our physical existence. Remember that Lucifer's original fall from grace established physical reality which exists in linear time, a limited sense of reality. Spiritual reality consists of all possible events, past, present, and future existing simultaneously in non-linear time; it is a contention in more esoteric studies that spiritual reality exists in zero time which provides an unlimited sense of reality.}

The idea that magnetizing pure light turns this particular type of energy into particles is very important. The corollary of that statement is that if you demagnetize light, you are going to have pure light provided you are in a "vacuum."

The general principle is that if you demagnetize matter, you are converting it into pure light which is something that is not experienced in physical reality on a regular basis. As pure energy it follows different laws than those set in the physical universe by academic paradigm. Montauk experiments (Montauk Project) have demonstrated that conscious thought projected into a demagnetizing vacuum, such as a soliton field, along a 435 Mega Hertz carrier frequency creates a Thought-Form that reassembles the pure light into physical reality. (FYI - the frequencies between 400 to 450 MHz are closely guarded for "military intelligence" use in the U.S.)

Now, let us return for a moment to what the "philosopher's stone" can achieve: "It perfects the DNA and closes the light within the body until you literally reach a point where the light body exceeds the physical body..." In essence, the philosopher's stone seeks to return us to the original state from whence we came: Pure Light.

"What are the characteristics of this 'pure energy' and what does it have to do with spiritual reality?" you might ask. Well, now you're asking me to define God, Heaven, and our connection to them.

We Will try to understand the missing link that connects us to our origin from the spiritual realm. I can tell you that the laws of spiritual reality are guided by holy scripture and holy scripture is what guides a people with God. As I will demonstrate later holy scripture not only contains laws that guide us; it tells us about the power that God has given us.

As for pure energy it has many interesting properties: It can exist outside of linear time and within the realm of zero time at the center of all existence. This means it can transcend the boundaries of physical reality implying quantum shifts through hyperspace - further implying quantum coherence with manifold eigenstates (plurality of alternate realities); it is also superconductive with superfluidic properties denoting mysterious attributes to pure energy that would make it seem "ghostly" and "other-worldly."

Of course, all of us have some interesting hearsay about people who have suddenly "time-shifted" or "teleported" to some strange place. Others speak of psychic communication with "aliens," channeling the dead, "reality-shifting" of personalities in the same body, "quantum shifting" through different realities and even "demonic possession." Let's face it. Throughout time the human being has been one incredibly quirky beast. Some might say "ghostly" and "other-worldly."

In the next section, we further examine what makes you "other worldly..."

MICROTUBULES

The gap between "civilized" and spiritual existence is filled with a "cloud" of mysticism. The average person views extra sensory perception and other psionic phenomena as mystic anomalies that are best left unexplained, therefore, beyond human understanding. When we shed some esoteric light on this "cloud," we discover the branches from our spiritual origin.

There are physicists working on theories which unite mind and matter.

One fairly recent discovery in biology and physics is that a certain small structure in every cell, called the microtubule, exhibits superconductive and tunneling behaviors at body temperature.

One of the problems with modern quantum physical theories is that there is no way to, logically, connect the Bose-Einstein condensates (BEC's), which have been demonstrated to exist in small groups of atoms at a millionth of a degree above absolute zero, with the BEC like behavior of microtubules at body temperature in living cells. ORME materials would make this connection.

{ORMEs or m-state materials are thought to be the precious metal elements in a different atomic state (e.g. platinum, gold, silver, etc.). All of these m-state elements are abundant in sea water. These elements in their m-state (monatomic elements in a high-spin state) may be as much as 10,000 times more abundant than their metallic counterparts.}

These m-state elements have been observed to exhibit superconductivity, superfluidity, Josephson tunneling, and magnetic levitation. These are an entirely new class of materials not yet on the periodic table.

These m-state elements are also present in many biological systems. If the "philosopher's stone" in the form of these m-state materials already exists, innately and systemically, within the human body, then they are probably the necessary trigger for microtubule functions inside every living cell of the body.

Moreover, the m-state materials probably form the (physical) intelligence network between microtubules and become more quantum coherent the further the host goes into a meditative trance or focused euphoria.

Visual Ray Psionics: Ancient Keys

In previous posts at HealingMindN Power Circle, We've already talked about synchronising the breath with our prospect and using emotional freedom techniques as a form of telepathy. We've also talked about resonating the voice with our prospect. (Please Review the report on the Chakra Chord for your full comprehension of this course.) Now, let's get a little deeper into the esoterica of ancient keys to mind control.

Visual Ray Psionics is what some people might call a "spooky" papyrus or "necronomicon" that deals with sorcery and conjuring spirits.

In fact, you're only dealing with thought forms through focused intent, so the best category for visual ray psionics is "techno-shamanism."

Until now, you've been unwittingly creating thought forms right and left, changing your reality at the whim of presiding social mood like a piece of drift wood being tossed on the tides. No more of that.

Now, it's time for you to focus on how you create thought forms and how the Visual Ray works.

Gaining the Heart Knowledge

Let's establish some principles in our minds before we begin. We understand and learn through experience, so I'm hoping that you are a sensitive person.

Visual Ray Theory

The visual ray is an extension of the body's natural energy field. Are you familiar with the aura? It's been proven to exist using Kirlian Photography. The aura is the interactive culmination of energy fields generated in the body; technically it's a meissner field since it contains a plethora of electromagnetic and scalar components (mostly scalar).

Suffice it to say that this is a ray of biological energy which has many implications in itself. (A scalar is pure potential that manifests itself as a vector force when combined with a similar potential in terms of scalar wave interferometry.) Theoretically, the microtubule network within the cytoskeleton of the neurons generate a specific aura according to our mood and Temperament as a reflection of the chakra system at any given moment. For example, aura detectors see dark red for anger indicating lower chakrum activation as opposed to upper chakra like violet and indigo for peace and well being.

This same microtubule network generates a soliton field during higher levels of consciousness which is scalar in nature. The soliton field is an integral layer of the meissner field. The interaction of these fields between people is what creates "chemistry" in terms of resonance or incompatibility in terms of dissonance. In fact, it's a bioresonant energy field.

Psionics

Psionics, like radionics, operates on the principle that every point in space and time has a unique vibratory rate of resonance. The tuning in this case is specifically between minds and thought-forms. As in radionics, an external device can be used to help hold the resonant frequency, but the actual crux of the tuning mechanism is still the mind.

Visual Ray Psionics is thought form projection, in a nutshell; it is an etheric function that creates reality from the universal cosmic ether (all the Michelson-Morley experiment proved is that the ether is not electromagnetic in nature). When we look at someone we are sending information to that person. Have you ever tried to avoid someone at a party or even on the street? You keep looking at this person hoping that he/she doesn't notice you, then, somehow, that person notices you out of the crowd! You were unconsciously sending that person information that you were there using your visual ray of which the cosmic ether is a carrier.

This information is holographic in nature. Bioenergetic as well as psychoenergetic information is a holographic integral of fractals; this means each piece of information represents the whole on every scale. Strangely enough, this means that psychoenergetic information can be transferred in a split second to anyone and passed around like a special piece of candy between people. And if your candy is especially tasty, people will pay less attention to any other candy - and more attention to yours.

Other times, we focus ourselves willingly on the object or person of our desire. This takes a lot of energy, but the pay-off, when you're in harmony and you have rapport, is your creation of an attraction thought form for that particular person.

Bioenergy Loss through the Visual Ray (demonstration)

To demonstrate that we expell a tremendous amount of energy through our eyes every day, try the following experiment:

- 1) Hold your right arm at your side.
- 2) Ask someone to try to pull up your arm while you resist as much as you can.
- 3) Relax your arm and concentrate on the second hand of a watch while it travels around the watch for one minute.
- 4) Repeat Step 1 and have someone try to lift your arm again while you resist. From your weaker resistance in the second trial, you can easily determine the amount of energy emitted from the body through your eyes.

Another indicator of losing energy through the eyes is when you put your glasses on after a workout; you can see a film forming on the lens of your glasses wherever you glance due to your bioenergy emissions.

This is the reason we sleep with our eyes closed: To regain the bioenergy lost through our eyes during the day we draw upon the Infinite Source of psychic energy which can only be regained through the sleep state (delta rhythm neural patterns presiding), that infinite source being God.

It's during our sleep state when our minds are open to hyperspace symbols which are communications from God. The symbols usually take the shape of everyday objects and people in our dreams. These symbols are also psychic keys or thought forms which we encounter in our waking state.

The thought forms we create are usually through intense visualisation on an object or person of desire. The principles cited on the Law of Attraction help us to visualise thought forms. (Genevieve Behrend's ideas are not perfect because they don't grasp consensual or shared realities, but her principles on law of attraction are mostly valid.) Although we can imagine anything we wish, thought forms are most effective when they are simple and representative of deep, spiritual ideas.

This is where the work of Stewart Swerdlow comes into play; he's a former Montauk Project psychic who performed extensive research on this subject. You should look up "The Healer's Handbook..." to understand hyperspace archetype symbology.

In the same way that word language is based upon our DNA structure as cited at Collective DNA Consciousness; ancient alphabet is also based on our DNA structure. The Hebrew Alphabet, for example, consists of 22 letters which represents the 22 amino acids which comprise our DNA.

According to the Qabalah, specific combinations of these letters represent and activate thought forms on each level of our conscious, subconscious, and superconscious - since they were derived from here.

Stewart Swerdlow discovered that ancient characters such as from Hebrew, Chinese, and Egyptian Hieroglyphs are based on our DNA, therefore, represent our mind patterns in the three levels of consciousness.

There are further dream symbols as researched by Swerdlow which are actually hyperspace archetypes further derived from ancient hieroglyphs, God's Language as He communicates with us since He created Us. (Excuse my use of He since I'm a man.)

One example is the symbol for Healing Thoughts as you see to the right. This symbol is a psychic key - one of many. You can use this symbol to send healing thoughts to yourself or someone across the room - or at a distance on the other side of the planet - or anywhere in the universe.

You've already learned from the above cloud busting experiment that you can affect objects at a distance. By the same token, you can also affect people at a distance. Try this experiment. You will need at least two friends to help you:

- 1) Have your friends facing away from you at least 10 feet away from you (or within ear shot).
- 2) Stare at the back of the neck of one of your friends for at least two minutes. (Make sure noone else is staring at the back of their heads.)
- 3) Ask your friends at whom you are staring. Your friends will probably be right 100% of the time.

Now, try the same experiment with a barrier between yourself and your friends. Stare through the barrier for at least three minutes while you imagine staring at the back of one of your friends. You have to imagine that you are staring at the back of the head of one in particular. Your friends will probably be right 100% of the time upon asking.

Now, try the same experiment with your friends at home; it helps to have a picture of one in particular in front of you. Relax and Imagine that you are staring at the back of that friend's head - and do this for at least five minutes. Imagine what your friend might be thinking and feeling at that particular moment.

Relax your eyes as if looking into the distance along an ocean horizon. Imagine the color sea-green and aqua-marine flowing all around you - like a bright light that's alive and pulsating - swimming, swirling and surrounding you in so many powerful ebbs and waves - as if you're in the mouth where the river meets the ocean. Imagine the symbol to the left floating in front of your chest; this is the symbol for "merger."

Imagine yourself climbing into your friend's shoes; in your imagination, approach your friend from the back and put yourself inside his skin, one limb at a time: First, the head, then an arm, another arm, then the legs, then the torso.

Imagine yourself wearing your friend's body, feeling what he/she is feeling, seeing what your friend sees, seeing your friend's face when you look in the mirror, knowing his/her thoughts about the world.

What you have done here is a José Silva method of "assumption" (or Golden Dawn method) augmented with Swerdlow methods of psionic tuning. (As I understand, this is also a method of remote viewing.)

Have your friend call you when they get the curious sensation that you are "watching" them. You will discover yourselves sharing the same thoughts with new found rapport.

Positive feedback: One Step at a Time.

After you have proven your own psychic abilities for yourself, you can project thought forms with the same assurance. Try the Healing Thought form above (capital green letter N with a diagonal "swoosh"). Project it to someone who needs cheering up during the Holidays. Project it into their heart chakra (in the chest) with beautiful bright green colours and repeat, "Healing Thoughts, Healing Mind."

When you do this for everyone you know and care about, you reaffirm and strengthen your abilities in your mind with each piece of positive feedback. Ask each person how they are feeling after you project healing thoughts to them and remember: empathy, the key to your rapport.

Each time you do this, the effect is multiplied geometrically (the same reason Dion Fortune's Society of Inner Light prayer group worked so well during WWII on Rudolph Hess, Hitler's right hand man).

You have to keep the images sharp in your mind. Like a meta-morph, you tune into their feelings of illness to overshadow them with your own healing thought form. Tune into intense sensations of what that other person maybe feeling, then overpower them with your own. Because your purpose serves the higher purpose of healing, yours will always be superior.

You against the mediocrity

Most people are amorphous with their thought patterns, so they get lost and seek guidance. Most people lack purpose exactly because they lack the clarity to intensely visualise an objective. Like an authority figure, you can provide that clarity, that healing to the people around you. They never have to know that you use visual ray psionics.

The astral aspects of the chakra system are radionically keyed to specific colours, sounds, symbols, and feelings. A regular name by which a person is called also carries a radionic signature which is keyed to that particular person's psyche. Please look up The Healer's Handbook, A Journey into Hyperspace by Stewart Swerdlow for specific information on these psychic keys which are quite extensive.

A few psychic keys specific to me for instance is the number 7 and the colour violet; 7 being the seventh (3rd eye) chakra and violet being the colour specific to that chakra. The number is obtained through pythagorean reduction of the number equivalents of each letter:

R A N D O L P H

9 1 5 4 6 3 7 8 = 43 => 4+3 = 7

Examine a previous post at HealingMindN Power Circle on the subject of Chakra Chords and how a person usually speaks from a specific chakra as the tonic. I find that I do speak from the 7th chakra, so my name is definitely a deeply engrained psychic key. If you derive the psychic keys for all three of my names, you can tune me in telepathically. You can do this for anyone. (Yet another method for remote viewing and influencing)

Besides looking at a picture, you can psionically tune in a person through their psychic keys. According to the Healer's Handbook, an even more specific method is to tune into their personal hyperspace archetype. This is a deeply personal, spiritual symbol that can only be obtained by the person in question. Of course, you can learn what that symbol is by helping that person obtain it. That would entail a deeply intimate relationship.

The eyes are not only windows to the soul; they are windows to a soul which reach out, constantly. The soul always leaves essence as thought forms in places familiar to that soul. That's what some "ghosts" are; they're simply thought-forms that attached to a certain place. They're extensions of us. That's what we do - attach thought forms to certain people, places, and things.

Some people are so intent over weeks, months, and years on there being the existence of a "ghost" in their house that they actually create their ghost. Then they send for ghosthunters to prove the existence of that "ghost."

These thought-forms or "ghosts" actually register on thermal scans and bioenergy meters (used by savvy "ghost" hunters).

Now, Let's learn how to program thought forms to automatically perform tasks. Yes, I'm going to show you how to create your own "ghost."

Thought Forms

I've been arguing with myself on how I should present this subject. Let me begin with the origins of my introduction to thought forms.

I was first introduced to this concept by Charles Cosimano, author of "Psionic Combat," almost two decades ago. Mr. Cosimano offers a lot of practical information in the chapter on thought forms. Unfortunately, this information tends to go hand in hand with a lot of destructive, hurtful thoughts; he basically hates people. Just about anyone annoys him, especially kids; he enjoys projecting destructive thought forms against people around him even from boredom, so he's not very mature.

Another problem with Mr. Cosimano is that he says that there is no such thing as karma (therefore, quote, "we can cause as much bad luck and destruction on our enemies as we like with no repercussions"), yet he has the audacity to call upon angelic powers wherein karma is an integral part of spiritual law. He even admits that (quote) "you better find a way to dissipate those destructive thoughts forms or they'll come back to you." If that's not karma, I don't know what is.

Before Mr. Cosimano gets into seeding destructive thought forms like swords, spears, and exploding missiles, he provides this useful passage:

..most thought forms are not effective at all. People, on the whole, do not think very clearly. Even their strongest desires, the ones which we would expect to create the most powerful thought forms, are usually quite muddled. There are always little side thoughts and feelings which get intermingled with the expressed desire and thus ruin the cohesiveness of the thought.

Hence a thought may be sent forth with a tremendous will behind it, but because the thinker has no clarity to his thought, it totally fails to accomplish anything except frustrate the sender. It is for this reason that a clear thought, even with a little energy, will be more effective than a highly energised mass of conflicting desires.

This is a reason why most attempts at making group thought forms fail. Each individual comes to the group with his own agenda and as all these get mixed up in the soup, the resulting thought form tends to be an amorphous mass with no effectiveness at all...

The Presiding Thought Forms: an amorphous cloud

This logic falls in line with Genevieve Behrend's principle in the Law of Attraction wherein our vision must be like that of a laser projecting a crystal clear image to create that thought form.

I believe that people have these complex motivations only because decadent society with its complex social structures tends to pull us in different directions rather than focus on our individual strengths. As a result, motivations are complex, intentions flow with the presiding social mood, and thought forms are amorphous.

This is in opposition to your reality which is focused as your intentions. Your motivations remain clear in opposition to the mediocrity.

I have to disagree slightly on that postulation on the amorphous mass having no effectiveness. As you might know, public opinion is shaped by mass media and politicians and that news reporters are "objective" insofar as fear mongering.

When they are not engaging the public in trivial pursuit as to which celebrity is in trouble, they are inducing the fear of war, terrorism, madmen with guns, epidemic disease, and every scare that tickles their demented fancy like threat of bird flu, earthquakes and more "terrorist attacks." In turn, this creates an amorphous fear thought form which acts like a giant feedback mechanism to the same people who make it.

Although this giant, dark cloud of fear is only lukewarm with energy because of the lack of focus, it's still enough of a thought form to keep the fear going. In chemistry, we learned that a tub of lukewarm water still has more energy than a cup of boiling water; the same applies to thought forms: The Presiding Social Mood creates the presiding thought forms. Although amorphous, in accumulation, they do affect the elements including weather patterns and other geophysical phenomena - like global warming. All that social mood needs is the right "push" from mainstream media.

The difference is a powerful enough laser can still cut through a shield of sweltering garbage. Your thought forms must serve as that laser.

You are their saviour

What you have to do is enlighten the people around you, so they can think straight and clearly. Just as you are here learning from me, you have to teach the people around you that fear of mere threats is fear of nothing. The people around you have to realise that mass media is perverse when they are bent on death and destruction.

No matter how many bad things are happening in this world there are still just as many good things happening in this world; indeed, in this universe, there are even more good things in comparison. No one should waste their precious time dwelling on the dark side of life. When bad things happen we use logic to learn from our mistakes and spirituality to heal from our mistakes.

The Way of the Mind Gate is about putting your logic and your spirituality to good use. "Psionic Combat" is not necessary towards your fellow human beings. We are here, right now, to learn how to approach issues and situations from a higher state of consciousness.

The only way to lift the world around us out of a dark, paranoid, less-than-human slump is to begin with yourself, your own reality. You need to become self-actualised in your mind patterns; this means following spiritual law - which is more trustworthy than decadent laws of men. When you lift yourself up, you lift up those around you.

Of course, there are certain types of people who will be left behind - like Mr. Cosimano. I like to describe them as the people of Psalms 73 which describes them to a T. Look it up; you should get used to spiritual law, anyway.

The Cloud

The following technique of forming the cloud is a well defined approach to external alchemy as derived from the works of H. Spencer Lewis, Dr. Samuel Sagan, Stewart Swerdlow and a few others. Their methods of external alchemy which they researched are practical, and it's the intent in your heart that really counts. Your intention bears the fruits of your labor which determines your fate, the conditions of tomorrow; hopefully, success and triumph in love and light.

This method of forming the cloud is almost the reverse of cloudbusting as described in Visual Ray Psionics above, but it's even more refined. We're going to form this "cloud" once it's created and condense it into the thought form of your choosing (an orb):

1. Your Lab: Spiritualists who have experimented with materialisation claim that light is detrimental to "physical" phenomena. You will find it desirable to have a room that can limit the amount of outside light. This can also be done outside in the dark twilight when you have little or no disturbance around you. (Ninjas of ancient legend would do this similar exercise in caves.)

Either a white or dark background is OK; it's up to your individual preference on what works for you. As long as the space is nil to your eyes and allow them to defocus naturally after a few moments of concentration.

Have available at least one unadorned wall or a door which leads into a darkened room. The presence of skeptics dooms one to failure - especially in the beginning, so you need privacy.

2. Your Frame of Mind: Sit quietly and comfortably and go into a trance. You can follow Gerald O'Donnell's free sampler audio meditation guidance at his site, Academy of Remote Viewing and Remote Influencing, for this purpose. Since you have a computer, you might also try Advanced brainwave entrainment, EEG Stimulation, Biofeedback Integration software.

Also remember to loosen and drop your jaw slightly to release the tension on your fifth cranial nerve as described in the first newsletter of Way of the Mind Gate. The trance state allows you to achieve clarity of thought, purpose, and vision.

Sit quietly and comfortably, then direct your eyes to a single blank point in space. This is necessary so that the cloud may collect at the place where you are staring. Your eyes must remain on this same, single spot, relaxed, then focused, relaxed, then focused as described in tensor exercises for regaining your vision. If you glance here and there, the cloud will not build up. Your attention and your intention must be focused on that singular point - not the focus from your eyes. Only your attention must be focused on that particular point in space. When not seeing clearly, imagine that point in space, in your mind.

The effect of directed attention is cumulative - the same as etheric energy when gathering mist to create a cloud. The longer you look in the same direction, the more defined the cloud becomes.

3. Defocusing the eyes: Since the cloud is a subtle phenomenon, we have to relax the eyes. De-focus the eyes slightly as you stare and wait for the cloud to become apparent. H. Spencer Lewis, founder of the Rosicrucian Order, discusses this technique in the "Ninth Degree" monographs; he suggests that you look beyond anything that might be in front of you - as if you were looking at something miles away, into an imagined horizon, far away (a familiar technique in martial arts meditation).

Lewis calls this "passive" visual perception - that the eyes see better when they are passive (refer to the eye exercises for restoring vision).

.By slightly de-focussing your eyes, you enhance your ability to see the cloud. In fact, this technique allows you to observe the aura around people, places, and things which are also forms of "clouds." (Near-sighted people can throw away their glasses after doing this exercise for a while; I haven't needed a new eyeglass prescription in over ten years.) Collecting the cloud is of no use to you if you cannot see it accumulating, therefore, this defocussing method is absolutely essential. Defocussing also relaxes cranial nerves two through four. In combination with relaxing the fifth cranial nerve through your jaw, this helps you slip deeper into a trance.

In this particular trance state, you're able to sense things that other people cannot - in their usual, closed-minded trance state.

4. The Sympathetic Vibrations: H. Spencer Louis goes onto recommend a certain chant (RA-MA) to help manifest the cloud by "bringing together dual sex potencies in the universe." I'm all for that, but the chant representing the intention is a little too pagan, thus, religiously oriented for this particular work.

Instead, here's a technique from Awakening the Third Eye by Dr. Samuel Sagan. Yes, there's still plenty of pagan references in this book, but it discusses esoteric techniques common to secret sects of most cultures rather than from a certain order. Many of the techniques discussed by Dr. Sagan are also from martial arts meditation. The whole book is a very intense work that completely describes the title.

I'm giving you an ultra-mini crash course on Dr. Sagan's Clairvision techniques to help you generate the "cloud." I'll try to do Dr. Sagan's book justice:

As you might know, the third eye, or seventh chakra, is the astral body which is intimately connected to the physical body of the pineal gland. Mechanistic scientists insist that this is a vestigial (useless) gland. (Mechanistic scientists make the same claim about 80 to 90% of our brain power and our DNA.)

The purposes of the third eye are manifold. (In case I forgot to tell you before, yes, you're going to be using your three eyes.) The two main purposes of the "third eye" are for "tuning" and "projecting" subtle energies.

In our case, we want to "project," but first we must charge the pineal gland both etherically and astrally: This means we charge the gland through vibration in the throat and envisioning royal blue and violet light.

This method of charging is simple, but usually takes a lot of time. By relieving the stress on cranial nerves two through five, thereby inducing a trance state, we increase the total reactance of the neural pathways in and around the pineal gland.

Combined with euphoria of higher spiritual purpose, you create a superconducting, superluminal quantum state within the microtubule network of the cytoskeleton of the c-fibres of your nervous system. In essence, you are creating the ideal environment for extrasensory and paranormal phenomena.

Using step 3 in this exercise, remember your breathing: Deep, smooth, slow flowing breathes from the solar plexus. Feel the friction of the breathe within your throat as you relax your focus at that singular point in space. Feel the friction in your throat connecting with the vibration within your 3rd eye; this is a harmonic cavity, a channel shaped like a flute leading from your trigeminal nerve in the middle of your forehead to your visual cortex in the middle of your occipital lobe (back of your head).

Remember, the 3rd eye is astral in nature, so it tunes into emotions, but it uses the pineal gland as a kind of capacitor/transformer which stores and transforms etheric energy into astral energy - for projecting emotions to others. (Isn't that fun? I call the pineal gland a "transvector.")

Imagine the colours royal blue and violet projecting from your third eye into that singular point in space. These colours help you "tune" the thought form from your third eye as you set up the correct astral resonance.

5. The Mantra: From volume 2 of Way of the Mind Gate, I discussed chakra chords in detail; the way we speak vibrates etherically as subharmonics which correspond to the astral harmonics of the chakra system. The way we speak, physically, reflects who we are, spiritually.

Therefore, there is one more component to help you build that thought form: The Mantra. Years ago, I would have recommended the standard "AUM" from "om mani padme om" (I pray to the jewel in the lotus flower.) Now, I know better. From volume 3 of Way of the Mind Gate (you can look it up in the Way of the Mind Gate Archives), we know that our names also represent who we are since they represent our personal psychic keys from our DNA archetypes, wherein, our systems of letters, numbers, and music are derived. Stewart Swerdlow in his work, The Healer's Handbook, helps you derive your personal psychic key as it pertains to your name.

Since you're projecting your astral energy, you're projecting yourself, so your personal psychic key places your consciousness within the "cloud." When you hear your name, you have instant recognition of yourself.

Your Personal Spirit Chant

By the same token, your thought form also has instant recognition of your name, but you must only say that part of your name which it recognises; since it is mass free energy attuned to etheric harmonics you only utter the vowels.

According to Cabalistic Theories, You must only say the vowels in your name since they represent the etheric/astral part of yourself. Pronunciation of the vowels in your name directly calls upon the "recognition" by that mass free energy part of yourself which you are projecting into that singular point in space.

Just as we would chant "AAAAUUUUmmmm" as a long, drawn out mantra in transcendental meditation, we utilise our own names in the same way. It's OK to start with a consonant. In my case, the name or mantra for my thought form would be "RRAAOOOuuu" (as I resonate the consonant and vowels from their respective chakras: 9-gold, 1-brown, 6-blue, 3-orange). If your name is Louise, the mantra for your thought form is "LLOOOUUiii" (resonated from respective chakras: 3-orange, 6-blue, 3-orange, 9-gold). You can reference these from page 40 of Stewart Swerdlow's Healer's Handbook.

As you might have guessed, you are projecting yin etheric forces in this manner which, in turn, attracts yang etheric forces. Therefore, you are bringing together the dual sex potencies in the universe to manifest the "cloud," but without the pagan brew-ha-ha.

6. Recognising the cloud: The cloud itself is first formed by your etheric energy which carries your astral energy to that singular point in space. Since etheric energy has negative entropy, the stronger forces tend to draw in the surrounding weaker forces - like the gathering etheric energy that forms clouds in the sky. In this case, the surrounding etheric energy also carries and is drawn to the mass-free astral energy which you are projecting.

Unlike water molecules gathering in space, we cannot see mass free etheric energy when it is looked upon directly in the "waking" state. The biggest problem is recognising the "cloud." You may see heat waves. You may even see the world spinning around you. That would just be a hallucination because you're not breathing correctly.

The most correct determination of the "cloud" is that anything on the other side of it is blotted out; it is a subtle haze that blends in with the environment. The cloud will not move with your glance until you command it. For this reason, the "cloud" has been used for invisibility by certain kinds of adepts. (See Ashida Kim's Secrets of the Ninja)

- 7. Cloud Building: Among the methods for building and strengthening the cloud are hand gestures and eye movements. You may use both if you like - especially if you are adept at moving meditation and similar forms of internal alchemy. Bring your hands together, then apart - as if very slowly playing a concertina. Hold the intention in mind that you are compressing the æther in the space between your hands. You should have familiar gossamer feelings between your hands as you further build the cloud.

Your eye movements should be the reverse of cloud busting in Visual Ray Psionics. After you see a definite cloud formation, look away from it with the intention of building the cloud. Allow a little cloud to collect in another region of space in the same manner as the above steps. After a moment, bring your eyes gradually to the center of the main cloud as you will that tiny cloud into the main formation.

Do the same for the entire surrounding space: Will the surrounding etheric energy to join with the main formation.

For instance, you may glance above the main cloud, then bring your eyes down willing that the energy above the cloud be added to the energy of the main formation. Then glance below and to the side in the same fashion. I find that shifting the glance along the lines of a hexagram is strangely effective.

Remember to keep your eyes relaxed and defocussed as you do this. Your will over the energy must be entirely mental. Your eyes must remain passive, so you can "see" the formation.

- 8. Repetition: Repeat steps 2 through 7 in this manner: Steps 2 - 7, Steps 3 - 7, Steps 4 - 7, Steps 5 - 7, Steps 6 - 7, then end with Step 7. This engrains stability in the cloud structure as well as the intention for building the cloud in your mind. As you can tell, this whole affair takes amazing discipline on your part.

- 9. Centripetance vs. Centrifugance: Just as natural centrifugal forces tend to disperse clouds in the sky, those same forces will have a tendency to disperse your "cloud." Negentropic forces are centripetal (counter clockwise) in nature, but they must deal with thermodynamic forces which are centrifugal (clockwise) in nature.

If you are in the northern hemisphere of this planet, you must utilise a counter-clockwise path for centripetance to maintain your formation. This means you must will the cloud into a counter-clockwise spin in the same way that tornados form in the northern hemisphere. (The reverse principle applies in the southern hemisphere.)

Once your cloud gets spinning, it becomes smaller and denser. Alternate this step with step 7 to increase the charge and size, then this step to increase the density and centripetal forces. Astronomers contend that galaxies are formed in a similar way, with gigantic clouds spinning and condensing until they gradually form suns and planets. You are, after all, an individual aspect of God, a holographic fractal of nature who contains the same information as the rest of the universe, so don't be surprised at your abilities.

10. Testing: After the cloud has gathered sufficient power, will it to move and block your view of a well defined structure in your presence. Once you have determined that you have a proper manifestation that you control, it's time to command your thought form.

11. Programming Your Thought Form: Since you've created this formation during the trance state, it is in harmony with your thought patterns during this state of mind; it is programmed with your neural patterns. If you created it during your alpha rhythm, it is part of the primary standing resonance of the planet - which is also an alpha rhythm.

More than likely, you have higher purposes in mind during your trance state, so negative feelings are out of the question. By the same token, your creation is meant for a higher purpose - like healing.

For example, You can impress your creation with the archetype for healing thoughts. Simply will your creation to become this archetype in three dimensions with the healing colours of green. Then send this thought form to someone you love - like a message in a bottle.

If you believe that you need emotional healing from a dark trauma in your life, then ask it to come into you. This is only one example.

I advise you to study the hyperspace archetypes (dream symbols) in the Healer's Handbook by Stewart Swerdlow. Our DNA structure is built upon hyperspace archetypes, so they are natural to thought forms because they get their energy from hyperspace - our bridge to the spiritual world.

On a side note, most people would say that Charles Cosimano is a pretty scary guy. If Mr. Cosimano saw what you created at Step 11, he would run with his tail between his legs. You have a full grown tiger compared to his little weasal.

Your thought form is an extension of you in the sense of being an off-spring. Practitioners of marrow/brain washing chi kung create what they call a "baby buddha" through internal alchemy. You have created the same through external alchemy, in a fraction of the time, as a mass free entity.

Your thought form has the ability to instantly traverse the barriers of space and time to do your bidding. It has all the paranormal abilities you would expect from a "doppelganger" or your ghostly double self.

Among the paranormal abilities it has are incidental psychokinesis; this means it fixes situations just right, so that all the pieces fit in the right place and everything happens mysteriously, but in the best possible way - synchronicity. This is God's Gift to you. Use it under His Guidance, in His Glory.

Now, let's have a look at thought forms which occur as natural phenomena.

Ball lightning, Orbs, and Vacuum Domains

I like to make connections between different concepts and the post entitled, ORBS: ARE THEY A PSYCHOENERGETIC PHENOMENON? got my creative juices flowing.

This is actually an extract from one of Dr. William Tiller's papers, who happens to be the foremost expert in psychoenergetic phenomena. I get a little crazy when I find so many correlations between ball lightning and orbs, so bear with me. This is going to be out there for some of you.

If you read the paper on Collective DNA Consciousness, you also see a small discussion on Vacuum domains, self-radiant balls of ionised gas [aka ball lightning] that contain considerable amounts of energy.

The preponderance of vacuum domains in Russia prompted scientists to further investigate their source which lead to psychic research. Let's look at a video that, I'm pretty sure, contains a multitude of vacuum domains:

Here is a further extract from Collective DNA Consciousness:

One is left gawking and I have, as many others, too, thought them to be UFOs. Friendly ones, apparently, as they flew in triangles just to please me. Now the Russians found in the regions, where vacuum domains appear often that sometimes fly as balls of light from the ground upwards into the sky, that these balls can be guided by thought. One has found out since that vacuum domains emit waves of low frequency as they are also produced in our brains. And because of this similarity of waves they are able to react to our thoughts. To run excitedly into one that is on ground level might not be such a great idea, because those balls of light can contain immense energies and are able to mutate our genes.

They can, they don't necessarily have to, one has to say. For many spiritual teachers also produce such visible balls or columns of light in deep meditation or during energy work which trigger decidedly pleasant feelings and do not cause any harm. Apparently this is also dependent on some inner order and on the quality and provenance of the vacuum domain. There are some spiritual teachers (the young Englishman, Ananda, for example) with whom nothing is seen at first, but when one tries to take a photograph while they sit and speak or meditate in hypercommunication, one gets only a picture of a white cloud on a chair.

[During healing bioenergetic work and musicians while playing bioresonant music like samgita.] such light effects also appear on photographs. Simply put, these phenomena have to do with gravity and anti-gravity forces that are also exactly described in the book and with ever more stable wormholes and hypercommunication and thus with energies from outside our time and space structure. Earlier generations that got in contact with such hypercommunication experiences and visible vacuum domains were convinced that an angel had appeared before them. And we cannot be too sure to what forms of consciousness we can get access when using hypercommunication...

The post on Dr. Tiller's orbs mention coupled and un-coupled states which have a direct correlation to the states of quantum coherence and incoherence as discussed at Nature's Mind: The Quantum Hologram. Orbs are actually intention imprinted, quantum coherent, aural extensions or magnetised wormholes generated from people experiencing some type of quantum coherence.

These quantum coherent pockets in space are the same "thought forms" which I discussed above. There is not much difference between the "thought forms" which I discuss and orbs except that they are focused, intention imprinted with psychic keys and a definite purpose - some have the purpose of drawing crop circles.

Vacuum domains are not only natural to the universe, they are part of the underlying foundation upon which we exist. Here is an extract from Antigravity: The Dream made Reality by John A. Thomas:

Sir Oliver Lodge imagined the space fabric as having a microcellular structure, each cell being a vortex (quantum vacuum precession wave) whose size was of the order of the size of the fundamental particles, or even smaller. The medium was frictionless and the rotational velocity of the vortices related to the velocity of light. The intrinsic energy of the ether was in the motion of the vortices (related to the wave of probability as a statistical average of each element in the periodic table). This attributed an ultimate energy source to space itself. Lodge also imagined that the ether had an enormous inertia and density. The inertia in mass was due to the ether in it and solidarity of matter was virtual.

A similar idea occurred to Karl Schappeller of Castle Aurozlmunster in Inviertel, Austria (died 1947). According to his philosophy, a change in the space fabric (static potential) gave rise to so-called primary magnetism which may be interpreted as a type of "autogravitation." This primary magnetism caused a gathering of the surrounding space fabric and from it issued more fundamental energy as an intensification of the primary magnetism. (Reverse energy potential is characteristic of ether, so this is the electrogravitic equivalent.).

At a certain stage, the system reached an equilibrium gathering space fabric, and from it precipitated energy. When the energy density reached a required level, matter would be produced (similar to the formation of snow and rain). The system would take up a spherical form in the "natural" state and become what Schappeller called "glowing magnetism."

Glowing magnetism, he claimed, constituted the core of all planets and suns, the gravitational core of which was due to the glowing magnetism at its core (the constant movement of molten magma). How this theory fits the universal law of gravitation is at first difficult to see. We must remember that the universal law of gravitation is based on Kepler's Laws, which were derived from astronomical observations of the planets. The masses of these bodies can only be determined from their gravitational interaction, not from their inertial properties. Hence for cosmic bodies the term "m" in the derived formula: $E(\text{gravitational field}) = G(m/d^2)$ is not necessarily related to the inertial mass of these bodies, but the "GRAVITY" of them?

Schappeller's glowing magnetism forms in the same way as ball lightning, orbs, and vacuum domains; they are all more or less the same phenomena to varying degrees in the same way that there are different types of stars in outer space.

If you will harken back to my description of creating "thought forms," you'll notice that are formed through the same process of reverse energy potential - according to your intention. Let's have a look at one more extract from Collective DNA Consciousness that cross correlates the formation of glowing magnetism with orbs:

..The Russian scientists also found out that our DNA can cause disturbing patterns in the vacuum, thus producing magnetized wormholes!

Wormholes are the microscopic equivalents of the so-called Einstein-Rosen bridges in the vicinity of black holes (left by burned-out stars). These are tunnel connections between entirely different areas in the universe through which information can be transmitted outside of space and time (hyperspace). The DNA attracts these bits of information and passes them on to our consciousness. The "wormholes" in the case of the living organism are formed by [quantum microtubules within the cytoskeletal structure of at least 85% neurons within the nervous system.] This process of hypercommunication is most effective in a state of relaxation...

Therefore, you have further proof that orbs are psychic phenomena which are a natural occurrence that can be proven scientifically. Orbs, "or magnetised wormholes," are extensions of the bioelectric field which consists of many layers including meissner and soliton fields (AKA the aura, when it's healthy). As I have mentioned in several articles before, the quantum microtubules are key in this process; their functions serve as a God-Given bridge to alternate realities.

People take pictures of orbs around other people and other living things using Digital Infrared conversion of the cameras.

I discuss this process at the Hidden Bioenergetic Spectrum. Using Infrared Conversion Services, we can reveal an unseen world through our digital cameras. Since orbs most likely reflect in the IR region, they are easily caught on IR digital pictures.

Orbs mirror the low frequency neural patterns of their hosts, therefore, they also reflect and transmit in the IR region, the same as their living hosts. You can also capture these "ghosts" or "UFOs" using your own Digital Infrared converted camera.

Of course, you can opt for the full spectrum conversion, because there's a whole beautiful, unseen world out there.

With the sight training exercises above, you can "see" these energy fields with your naked eyes, but it's definitely nice to capture them for others to see.

Thanks for your time. Remember, Healing Thoughts, Healing Mind, Save the World.
